Subject: White House Social Enterprise and Opportunity Series: Citizen-Based Innovators

Dear Friend,

The Office of Social Innovation and Civic Participation in coordination with the Office of Public Engagement would like to invite you to the White House on the afternoon of Tuesday July 3rd to participate in a forum to discuss the important role that citizen innovation plays in expanding opportunity and addressing social issues.

Senior Administration officials as well as leading citizen-based social innovators from around the country will come together for this event. The afternoon will be comprised of a series of briefings, panels, and small-and-large group discussions that will explore how organizations that focus on citizenship are creating innovative models and entrepreneurial ventures to make a positive impact on our economy and our society, often while serving our most vulnerable communities.

This session will inaugurate a new series of conversations that we are hosting at the White House this summer to explore the topic of social innovation. Starting with this look at the pioneering accomplishments of our citizen-driven organizations, we will seek to learn from local innovators and social entrepreneurs who are expanding opportunity and strengthening communities across the country.

The details of this event are below. Please let us know if you will be able to attend this event by emailing SocialEnterprise@who.eop.gov with your security information in the attached spreadsheet as soon as possible. Due to high demand and limited space, we will only be able to accept the first 150 reservations. We will be following up with more details about this event on July 3rd.

If you have any questions about this event, please don't hesitate to email SocialEnterprise@who.eop.gov, and we'll be happy to answer any questions.

Looking forward to seeing you there!

Jonathan Greenblatt
Executive Director
Office of Social Innovation and Civic Participation
