

Sent: Thu, 06 Aug 2009 23:19:56 -0400
From: Billy Sawyer [REDACTED]
To: FN-WHO-Flag <flag@whitehouse.gov>, FN-WHO-Flag <"/o=eop/ou=first administrative group/cn=recipients/cn=flag">
Bcc: FN-WHO-Flag <"/o=eop/ou=first administrative group/cn=recipients/cn=flag">
Subject: FW: Picture worth a thousand words
ATT00000

--- On Thu, 8/6/09, Brenda Wilkins [REDACTED] wrote:

P6/b(6)

From: Brenda Wilkins [REDACTED]
Subject: FW: Picture worth a thousand words
To: "Alton and Gloria" [REDACTED] "Billy Sawyer"
[REDACTED] "Bobby Sawyer" <bsawyer@usg.com>, "Chris Wilkins"
<cwilkins@usg.com>, "Debby Kowalski" [REDACTED] "Katherine
[REDACTED] "Norma Sage" [REDACTED] Sawyer
[REDACTED]
Date: Thursday, August 6, 2009, 7:31 AM

P3/b(3)

10 USC 130b

One Photo Worth A Million Words

The Photo...

Sergeant Crowley, the sole class act in this trio, helps the handicapped Professor Gates down the stairs, while B O, heedless of the infirmities of his friend and fellow victim of self-defined racial profiling, strides ahead on his own.

This picture becomes a metaphor for ObamaCare. The elderly are left in the back, with only the kindness of the Crowleys of this world, the stand up guys, to depend on. The government has other priorities

This image will have genuine resonance as it captures something that older Americans in particular can relate to. B O presses ahead with a program that will tell them to take painkillers instead of getting that artificial hip.

At every stage of the entire Gates affair (including the Beer Summit), B O has provided a revealing tell.

The "acted stupidly" blunder revealed that he automatically blames the police and thinks they really are stupid to begin with. It didn't trigger a single alarm bell in his mind as he figured out what to say

Alas! Without his scripts and teleprompters , Obama the pretence is no longer the master performer!

