To Whom It May Concern,

I see that this not-so-great President is bragging about Americans reaping benefits of the new dumb healthcare law, but I don't see that as the truth at all.

I would like to know what group of Americans are reaping this benefit and when do I get mine for free as promised? Down with politicians, power to the people who really do make this country great not you the President who never has had to work a day in your life.

Also, how come the lame Obama administration has not said a word about the race discrimination that was perpetuated by that Detroit school taking "blacks" only on a PUBLIC school field trip and not including hispanics, whites, asians or any other American citizen? Very shameful! If the tables were reversed and it was an all anything but "black" field trip Obama would have fired the school principal and board members by now and held a big beer summit to try and fix race relations what a joke you are. Get out of office already! Do the right thing and quit!
