Subject: Boston update

Sir - The Boston matter appears to be resolved. Multiple explosive precursors were found in the apartment where the explosion took place but there is no indication of any materials/components to develop any kind of device. The apartment has been cleared by the Bomb Squad. The injured subject has a history of some mental problems but no ties to any domestic or international groups. It appears at this stage that he was mixing materials (unclear for what purpose) and accidentally detonated his mixture.
