Hi Valerie.

I hope all is well with you and your family.

I would like to add my name to the long list of proud Americans who feel compelled to extend sincere congratulations and heartfelt appreciation to President Obama for his recent and VERY significant victories. I can only imagine how last week was one of rolling emotional terrain for him.

In particular, I need to share that I listened to President Obama's eulogy for Reverend Pinckney live on the car radio. I was so overwhelmed with emotion at the power and grace in his words and delivery. Awash with goosebumps, chills and tears - I literally had to stop driving. I have re-read the transcript and remain in awe. Please articulate the impact his words have had on me - once again.

I've been thinking about you guys more than usual lately, please know that my commitment to preventing gun violence remains steadfast and I am here to assist your administration in any way I can.

I hope you are able to enjoy some much deserved downtime with the family this Summer Valerie.

I hope to see you again before too long.

Mark
