Subject: PA bus crush

Sir -

Some sad news to report.

I'm not sure if you've seen the news about the terrible bus crash in Pennsylvania. The tour bus was carrying a women's lacrosse team from Seton Hill University when it crashed near Carlisle, PA killing the driver and the team's coach who was six months pregnant.

DOT is investigating and have people on the scene. They are doing a complete sweep of the carrier's history. The NTSB has the lead on the investigation but if DOT finds the carrier was out of compliance they will obviously take action.

Will keep you posted.
