*Please remember that if you are enjoying your freedom today, please turn to your left and thank a protester.

The attacks of 9/11 were not done by Osama bin Laden, but more likely by elements within the United States government and elements of the Israeli military. [Mossad]

Barack Obama lied about the recent killing of bin Laden, just as his predecessor lied about 9/11.

Our soldiers do not fight for freedom. They fight for corporations. They are not heroes. They are murderers, invaders.
They die for corporations.

The fight for freedom is really taking place right here, right now.

*And please at this time, recall the words of our savior, Bill Hicks:

"Excuse me, aren't you all just hired killers?"

"Don't tell me the military protects our freedom."

"Anybody DUMB ENOUGH to join the military ... ought to be able to."

Manny Badillo's uncle, Thomas Joseph Sgroi, died on September 11, 2001. His Uncle worked as the VP of Internet Technology at Marsh & McLennan, with offices in the north tower. His body was recovered months later – the official cause of death was asphyxiation.

What is Building 7?

What Is The Point of “Building 7”?

The Point Is,
is that the fake killing of Bin Laden was meant to justify all the torture, lies, wars, and murders and be-all-you-can-be-U.S.-Army-total-b.s.

And the fact that Building 7 came down in a controlled demolition means that Bin Laden had nothing to do with it.
And that everything we have been told is a lie.

That Barack Obama is a liar, and a murderer.

That's the point.

Soon ... very soon ...

... it will again be time for The New American Dream Radio Show ...

the American-Russian-novel-all-we-need-is-more-vodka-radio-hour. ...

...We have the winds of our own totalitarian society freezing the land solid — a tortured tundra.

Finally, we can make a difference by reading and writing the truth, because the newspapers and television and radio are now so obviously not telling the truth.

It is a perfect, ironic situation ... the only real way for this to happen was that we hit rock-bottom.

Those who have spoken the truth are no longer here.

Their chairs at the Thanksgiving adult big table are empty.

Their relatives have sent them to Siberia with a roll of their eyes.

We are there. At the bottom. At the beginning.

So, let us begin. ...

... Okay ... here we go, scooch up to the samovar,

... maybe leave your hat and boots on,

... fill your peasant hands with a warm drink ...

and listen for the sound of hoofbeats on the ice.

The New American Dream Radio Program

... sometimes has technical problems ... we hate that, but we like to think of our scratchy reception as being akin to the French underground or those who fought against apartheid in South Africa, or the Czech velvet revolution or dissidents inside the Soviet Union — maybe they had nine-dollar Wal-Mart headsets, too.

... Or maybe, we just have to do the best we can, in a hurry, on the run, one step ahead of the principal, like students who know more than their teachers, sneaking into the History classroom when it's supposed to be empty and studying the real story.

Dedicated to the idea that Americans don't need to be idiots.

American History 101, 3rd Period.

Sit down, we don't have much time.

They will stop us.

Okay ... Lee Harvey Oswald, James Earl Ray, Sirhan Sirhan ...

Osama bin Laden ... are not your enemies.

Karl Rove, Barack Obama, George Bush, George Bush, Dick Cheney ... these are your enemies ... these are your lone nuts.

Okay, someone's coming.

Remember, do your outside reading!

Google Oklahoma City bombing, what really happened.

Google 9/11 Truth.

Watch "The Rules of Engagement", about Waco.

Listen to Jim Fetzer's presentation on the Wellstone assassination.

Really ... people ... this is not silly ... it's real.

Barack Obama talking about having just killed Osama ... that is silly.

George W. Bush not wanting to meet alone with the 9/11 Commission ... that is silly.

Read Jim Garrison ... don't listen to the Nightly News.

Watch the frightened astronauts in their press conference.

They do not smile! After coming back from the moon!

Listen to your Green Day! People!

Okay, sit up straight and take out your textbooks.

They're here.

Now it's time for The New American Dream Radio Hour Newsletter ...

But first, a word from Osama.

Authentic Osama Bin Laden Interview

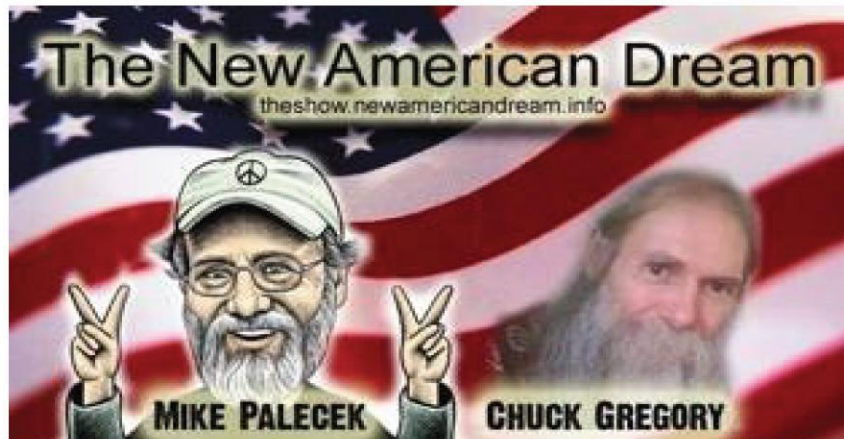

"It is the United States, which is perpetrating every maltreatment on women, children and common people . . . "

“ I have already said that I am not involved in the 11 September attacks in the United States. As a Muslim, I try my best to avoid telling a lie. I had no knowledge of these attacks, nor do I consider the killing of innocent women, children and other humans as an appreciable act. Islam strictly forbids causing harm to innocent women, children and other people. Such a practice is forbidden even in the course of a battle.

"There's a time when the operation of the machine becomes so odious—makes you so sick at heart—that you can't take part. You can't even passively take part. And you've got to put your bodies upon the gears and upon the wheels, upon the levers, upon all the apparatus, and you've got to make it stop. And you've got to indicate to the people who run it, to the people who own it that unless you're free, the machine will be prevented from working at all." - Mario Savio

“We protest "peacefully," although not passively.

We do not accept marching orders. This is how we protest.

“In Egypt, did they ask for a permit?”

— Lori Price, Citizens For Legitimate Government, on planned September “Seize D.C.” protest

Why SEIZE DC?

by Lori Price

Endless, illegal, murderous and bankrupting war abroad; endless, brutal and bankrupting attacks on the vast majority at home—this is what we protest.

Ten years ago, with the illegitimate installation of Bush as "president," Citizens for Legitimate Government made it its mission to expose the coup and to oppose the Bush occupation of the White House. We predicted that the installation of Bush was merely the precursor to an era of illegal and undemocratic undertakings on the part of the U.S. government--policies that had begun at home and that would extend across the globe. Unfortunately, we were right. And we were right to say that this era would not and has not ended with Obama. In fact, it continued unabated and gained in intensity.

In 2008, we witnessed a supposed change of guard with the election of Barack Obama. But even before the election took place, we suggested that Obama, rather than being an agent for change, was in fact a cleverly constructed mirage to enable the financial, corporate and military oligarchy to continue on the same course, in fact, to do so without the degree of opposition that was building to the Bush regime. What we have witnessed is not 'change you can believe in,' but, where Obama and most Democrats in Congress are concerned, belief you can change.

From Bush to Obama, we have seen not a change in policies, not a reversal, not even a 'failing' to change course, but the exact opposite: a determined continuation, extension and increase of the very same policies.

Rather than an end to imperialist wars, we have witnessed the increase in scope and the extension of war into other countries. Rather than two wars, we now have four.

Rather than policies favouring 'Main Street' as promised, we have witnessed the unprecedented transfer of wealth into the coffers of the banks, corporations and military contractors. We have seen record corporate profits while social misery for the working classes continues to rise, with unemployment not seen since the Great Depression and record home foreclosures. We now have austerity imposed on the vast majority while those who caused the financial crisis with wars, bailouts and corruption, pay little or no taxes and enjoy record profits.

Instead of restoring civil liberties, we have seen their further erosion with the extension of the Patriot Act, the increase of surveillance on the web, and a declaration by the president of the right to assassinate American citizens without any legal sanction whatsoever.

Indefinite detentions have not only continued under Obama, but he has also made sure that proven innocence is no cause for release.

This is but a short summary of the reasons for SEIZE DC!

How to SEIZE DC?

We protest "peacefully," although not passively. We do not accept marching orders. This is how we protest.

For 10 years, we have witnessed the absolute formalization of protests—the seeking of permits, the placing in quarantined zones, the appropriation of 'free speech' and the pro forma 'right to dissent,' treated as a purely formal and meaningless expression. We say, enough! We need no permission to free speech or the right of assembly. We seek no one's permission and will not have our protest cordoned off from and made irrelevant to the functioning of a murderous and tyrannical oligarchy. We will not be corralled or controlled. Our protest is a seizure of DC, by which we mean an attempt to seize the attention of the city and the nation so that its policies of seize and destroy may end.

More details on the protest schedule to follow soon.

3rd Period American History

Mr. Furstenau, Rm. 302

Things that should be, but never will be, mentioned in a United States junior high or high school history class.

*If Americans knew their real history rather than the nursery rhyme Disneyland version, George H.W. Bush and George W. Bush would not be able to ride together in a golf cart down the third baseline at an American baseball game to the cheers of the crowd. Rather, they would be greeted with tomatoes, fists, and handcuffs.

*And that's the truth. Any talk about wackos or conspiracy theories are just smokescreens from the guilty. You believe them and call the ones crazy who are trying with all their hearts and souls to tell you the truth.

The Bushes know it, too, and are just pinching themselves each morning, likely unable to believe they have been able to succeed on monstrous lies for so long.

Working With The Poor

An Interview with Richard Flamer & The New American Dream

<http://mpalecek.blogspot.com/2009/05/working-with-poor-in-chiapas.html>

RICHARD FLAMER lives in Chiapas, Mexico.

He has been there full time since 2001, six months a year prior to that for six years.

He is married to Araceli Benitez Moya, A Zapotec woman from Oaxaca.

The two of them run a Catholic Worker farm, which offers hospitality and housing to those in need, chiefly migrants on the road from Central America.

“I do not feel at home in the U.S., and I find that the more time I spend in Chiapas the more I realize I have never really felt at home in this country.

Mexico, especially in the Southern portion, is a land of indigenous families who are poor.

I feel so much more at home surrounded by the poor, living amongst them, as well.

SHERWOOD ROSS

SHERWOOD ROSS IS A NATIVE of Chicago.

After graduation, he worked as a reporter at the City News Bureau of Chicago and the Chicago Daily News, where he covered urban affairs and city planning. In June, 1966, he covered James Meredith's "March Against Fear" in Mississippi for Sonderling, also serving as Meredith's "press coordinator" to draw national media coverage to the event.

After Meredith was shot on the second day of the march south of Hernando, Miss., Ross helped get Meredith into an ambulance and accompanied him to a Memphis hospital.

Ross' eye-witness account of the shooting for WOL was redistributed by The Washington Post-L.A. Times wire nationally.

Ross also described the event the next morning in a segment interview on NBC's Today Show, and urged viewers to join him in completing the march. Ross was congratulated in public by Rev. Martin Luther King for "all the wonderful things you are doing for the Negro people."

Ross has also worked on political campaigns for Democratic candidates in Chicago, Washington, and Nassau County, N.Y., and contributed speeches to the presidential campaigns of Senator George McGovern and Governor Michael Dukakis. His bylines have appeared in virtually all major U.S. dailies.

Ross also directs the Anti-War News Service and his reporting and commentaries on political and military topics appear literally on hundreds of Internet sites globally. He resides in Coral Gables, Florida. Several Ross poems have received wide reception on the Internet, namely, "America, The Imperial," and "Hiroshima." Ross has four children by two marriages and two dogs that still love him.

The United States, the world, is full of tough guys.

Tough guys in pickups hanging guns out the window to kill dangerous white tail deer.

Tough guys on football fields and in bars, on motorcycles, grilling in the backyard.

But our tough guys are tough about nothing.

Absolutely nothing.

To go shoulder to shoulder with football pads on?

What is that for?

While we let the real fighting be done by young people like Sophie Scholl, by the kids who die at our guns in Afghanistan.

If you want to be tough and make it count for something, fight the F.B.I., the CIA, the U.S. Army,

If you travel around the world you realize that we especially in the United States, we live in a bubble ... especially if you talk to people in Russia ... they know it's propaganda ... we still think it's free press ... and that's our biggest darn problem in this country.

“Evidence of Revision”

Evidence of Revision is a 5-DVD, 8 hour long documentary series whose purpose is to present the publicly unavailable and even suppressed historical audio, video, and film recordings largely unseen by the American public relating to the assassination of the Kennedy brothers, the little known classified “Black Ops” actually used to intentionally create the massive war in Viet Nam, the CIA “mind control” programs and their involvement in the RFK assassination and the Jonestown massacre and other important truths of our post-modern time.

The U.S. Government’s Orwellian “Office of Public Diplomacy” has been in existence in various forms and under various names since World War ONE. The union of American governance and American corporate interests began in Abraham Lincoln’s day and the massaging of “public truth” began even before the Roman Empire.

The more you know about “real history” versus “official history”, the better equipped you are to see behind the lies of our times, even as they are told to you. Some of us knew what was really happening even before the second plane hit the tower.

THE
United States of America
Hall of Shame

These are your lone nuts, the wackos, the criminals, the terrorists, the long-haired wierdos in the greasy raincoats in the subway at midnight.

America, where we produce monsters who appear as anyone, and yet through their actions and inactions kill the prophets, keep the poor in the gutter, and still continue to live out their lives in peace, in America ... and long later, die, on television, with full honors ... and still we say nothing about their crimes ... but go home after the parade, shaking our heads, at least, finally ... rid of them.

Sold to private prison corporations who are locking them up for obscene profits!

Here are the top 3 things YOU need to know about the Private Prison money scheme:

The victims: Private prisons don't care about who they lock up. At a rate of $200 per immigrant a night at their prisons, this is a money making scheme that destroys families and lives.

The players: CCA (Corrections Corporation of America), The Geo Group and Management and Training corporations—combined these private prisons currently profit more than $5 billion a year.

The money: These private prisons have spent over $20 million lobbying state legislators to make sure they get state anti-immigrant laws approved and ensure access to more immigrant inmates.

How is all this possible? They profit from locking people up. Will you stand with Cuéntame's "Immigrants For Sale" campaign and become part of a nationwide network of Prison Watchers as we follow and expose the players, the money and the victims in this corrupt money making racket? YES, I WANT TO! “Nice hair.

You've got that whole George Washington thing going.
... Say, if the American people knew what we have done, don't you think they would string us up from the lamp posts?”

— George H.W. Bush

"Yes, dear. Who is that with the camera?
It looks just like that awful writer man.
I thought Karl took care of him? ...

Oh, yes, dear. ...

"Isn't it incredible that they're going to get Dubya before us?
"I wonder if they'll let you throw out the first ball at his first softball game at Leavenworth?
"If, well, yes, if they don't hang him first, of course.
Of course.
"I wouldn't want to miss any of his little games in his little outfit."

White House "Situation Room" Photos Part of Bin Laden Fable

"The notion that Obama "saw the terror chief shot in the left eye" live on video is a total fabrication. At best, the photos were cynically misrepresented by the White House and the mainstream media, at worst, they were completely staged to add a contrived drama spin to the unfolding wall-to-wall press coverage of the Bin Laden fable, which is becoming more convoluted with each passing day."

"...It's almost in the American mind — that of course the government is our parent, our father, and we almost don't want to think that they're bad ...
..."we live in a dysfunctional society, but nobody wants to talk about living in that dysfunctional society ... they know they're going through the pain, they know it's there, but they don't want to talk about it, so you just do your thing every day... and it's almost like that what's happening here in America." — Bob McIlvaine

Cost of Freedom

Prophets Without Honor

I have been involved in two non-fiction projects.

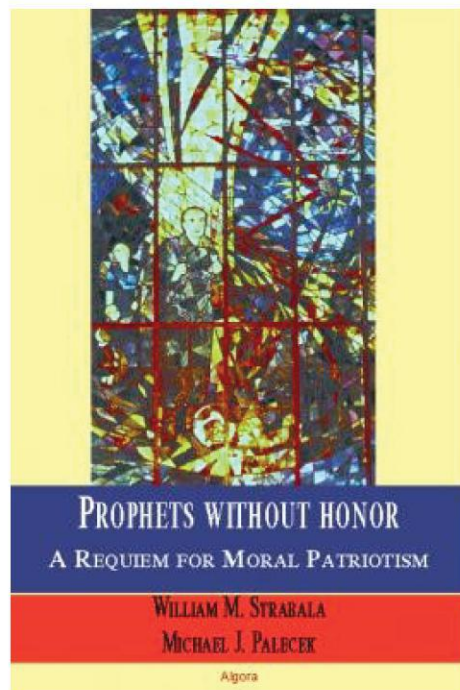

The first one, "Prophets Without Honor," was with co-author Bill Strabala. Bill used to work as a reporter for the Rocky Mountain News as well as the Denver Post. We did not know each other, but I think it was Fr. Darrell Rupiper who put us in touch. The book is largely the story of a group of Catholic priests who have served time in United States prisons for protesting against the U.S. military.

The priests were Frank Cordaro [no longer a priest], Rupiper [deceased], Fr. Larry Rosebaugh [deceased], Fr. Carl Kabat, and Fr. Roy Bourgeois.

At the time, and perhaps even now, these men were largely unknown. The story of these men and how they started out sort of All-American types, just wanting to do the right thing, then discovered the poor, either in the United States or Central or South America, and also learned that a big part of the reason these people were poor were due to government policies, and those policies could often be traced back to the U.S. And so they returned to the United States and began to confront those policies, the root causes of why people are poor.

Bill and I thought those were stories that needed to be told. Bill was the lead writer for the book. In fact, I didn't really write anything but a story about my own protests that found its way into the book.

It was published by Algora of New York City and is still available on Amazon and probably from Algora as well.

The cover to "Prophets" is from the chapel at Offutt Air Force Base, depicting an airman saying, "Send Me, Lord."

One day I was listening to my car radio in Sheldon, Iowa, and heard that a local soldier had died in Iraq. The radio announcer made sure to remind everyone that the soldier had died fighting for our freedom.

I cringed and then got busy trying to find a way to put together a book.

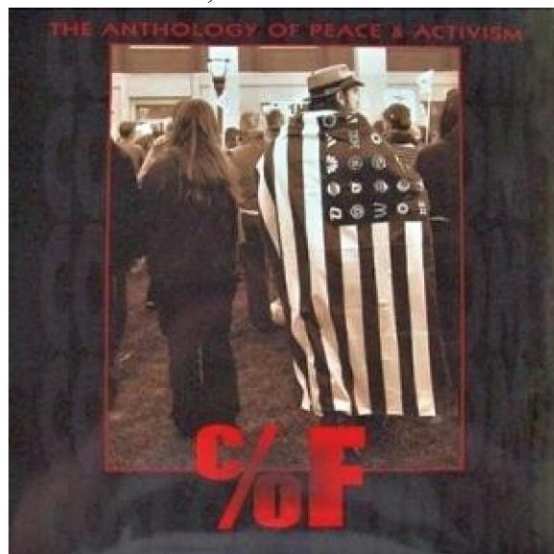

It was clear to me that the soldiers are not fighting for anyone's freedom. The ones fighting for freedom are actually the protesters who put themselves on the line by going toe to toe with the United States government, the real oppressor, both here in the states and around the world.

I started writing to peace groups around the country asking for stories about people who had been fighting the good fight since 2001, opposing the United States government and the United States military. The response was tremendous.

And I found an amazing person in Whitney Trettien out in Baltimore to help me. She ended up doing most of the work, compiling the stories and sending them off to an equally amazing publisher and book artist, Michael Annis, of Howling Dog Press in Colorado.

Michael is truly a fine artist when it comes to putting a book together.

Cost of Freedom is a work of art, both in the stories and in the photos and layout.

Local INS has very loose case in NY for deporting subject on narcotics charge involving 1968 arrest in England.

INS has stressed to Bureau that if LENNON were to be arrested in US for possession of narcotics he would become more likely to be immediately deportable.

Letters:

We received these and other letters in response to Tuesday's emailing:

- 1) "Please take my name off your email list."
- 2) "Remove me from this list."
- 3) "Take me off your mailing list ASS HOLE---- you are one fucked up shit head!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!"
- 4) "You're a lunatic!"
- 5) "please delete me from your mailing list"
- 6) "I agree with all but the military men. They truly believe they are fighting to keep our (non) freedom. I come from a military family. The last thing a soldier needs in battle is to be unsure of his goal. The officers know it, but the ones on the front lines have no idea.

"It is sad that the mafia called government is in place. The use of Hollywood writers to write speeches that are devoid of the truth, gets people elected."
- 7) "Hi Mike, this is [] from killradio. While you are always welcome to visit killradio and even become a part of us if you choose, you need to understand that we completely disagree with 911Truth. What you wrote in your email is a fantasy. It is fine to ask questions but you have to be able to hear the answers and your mindset probably does not allow that. I am not interested in arguing with you (you will simply reject anything I say so what's the point?), and there may be a member or so of kill who is sympathetic to the 911Truth-haters, but don't write any more of this crap and expect us to agree with you. Okay?

"My email is [], but again, I am completely over arguing with Truth-haters."
- 8) "Mike, I would like to be taken off of your mailing list. However, allow me to delineate and hopefully you will understand my position.

This country is very racist and elitist. After my 25 years of working with the poor and dealing with overt racist and elite mentality I am not going to waste my limited time on earth being or dealing with nonracial apparatuses on my free time.

b]. Our society and community is comprised of 32% people of color and my goal is to challenge whites to be more inclusive to helping to deal with the high level of omission or people of color, and particularly African Americans experiences in their writings. I should never be able to say that for the majority of my professional career I was the only person of color in organizations that purported to serve all people. In short, many of those public institutions or machines were an apartheid clones that reflect such history and participation by sheep.

c]. If I don't gain any new information that can help me dismantle the institutions of apartheid then why am I wasting my time?

d]. When was the last time you mention race or poverty in your writings? I live in a white bread society and I am trying to give justice to those who are not at the table of plenty. Please don't take this personally but I only have so much time left on this earth and I can't waste it dealing with items that does not fit my life quest.

Peace

The Y's 1

This is my response to A'Jamal and also his followup to me:

"Mike, I think you missed part of my message.

A'Jamal,
I will take you off.

I think I understand, perhaps not.

To you, your being a black man is your reference point in life.

To me, I think it is the lies in our history books, perhaps having lived through the assassinations of King and the Kennedy's, and that I believe the government is behind the 9/11 attacks and all that have followed. Well, my point is not the government but the everyday racists that I deal with in all of the public and so called faith based institutions. Also, I get tired of having to fight by myself in these racist places and with the sell out uncle toms in this community.

And, I have never been really poor. My father's family was, I think, very poor after having come over from Czechoslovakia, but my dad got a good job with the railroad and I have always been comfortable.

I do include race and poverty in my writings. In a recent newsletter I included links to Dick Gregory and Steve Cokely talking about the assassination of MLK and the possibility that there were traitors within King's entourage. And also the fact that William Pepper is writing a book to that effect. Well, as the old saying goes think globally and act locally. Well that is what I have been doing for over 25 years in this racist city and state.

And that does matter. It matters if there were traitors within King's inner group. Because if he had lived he would have taken over Washington D.C. with The Poor People's March and that would have made a difference. That is why they had to kill him. And that's why the so-called conspiracy theories are not separate from the issues you are passionate about. They are intertwined. The ones who rule us know that and that's why these things happen.

I went to prison and jail, on purpose, and suffered, because I thought the money from Offutt should rather go to North Omaha. And I stated that as well, and went to the Cathedral, asked the bishop for sanctuary to try to make him understand that as well. When I ran for Congress in 2000 I tried to say much the same thing as many ways as I could.

The thing is, I really think I have done everything I can, as far as poverty, the poor, war. Maybe that's my problem. Maybe I'm not seeing what's right in front of my face. yes, now you are getting warm.

And I often write about immigrant and Native American issues, at least when I think I have something to say or something to offer. One thing I have not written about that I would like to is David Rice and the other Panther in Lincoln as part of Cointelpro. I did write about that back in the late '80s when I went back to school after having been released from the Council Bluffs county jail for an Offutt action. I was going back to journalism because I was just totally exhausted after ten years of activism and prison. I went back to Wayne State and as editor of the student paper I asked David Rice [Mondo] to write.

I certainly felt inadequate writing to him and putting what he wrote in the paper, but it was something. The same as I would feel inadequate doing anything about that issue now, but it would be something.

You know, when I was a protester, going to prison and having my life torn apart by what I was going through, I really hated the liberal protesters who were not going to jail and prison and keeping their family and their lives intact, while still calling themselves activists. Well, there you go again. There is a smug mentality that the only way to fight is to do it one way. My real question is how do you climb into the inside of the octopus and do social justice inside of the beast and build social capital with the oppressed so that we dismantle those systems that keep too many people poor? Why does it have to be an either or mentality? Plus, as a nonbeliever I worked in Hell for 25 years and all I got was a thankless plate of feces from those skin heads. So why I am wasting my free time with folks who can't see?

Maybe that is how you feel about me. No, it is not about you. It is more about me not wasting me time on a mismatch for my lifequest. I say I am for all this and yet I am comfortable. If that is so, I don't argue with how you might feel about me. Again, my friend in the scope of time we are just a drop of water in the ocean. As that song goes you are so vain!

Anyway, enough from me. Good and thanks.

I don't take this personally, but I would still argue that by saying that the so-called conspiracy theories and such have nothing to say about black society, that is not correct. Again you are looking at history from a Eurocentric jade mentality. America is not a conspiracy against African folks, the whole system has been against our existence for over 500 years. Enough said. May the force be with you. The Y's 1

Okay, take care.

-- Mike

P.S. Off the subject, I have always wondered why, in the '60s, when black people rioted in Omaha and around the country -- why did they burn their own neighborhoods? Why didn't they attack Dundee rather than burning down their own businesses? Silly question of sort. The slave did not own their plantations. plus, the system is so oppressor you would not get caught in Klanville.

We had someone on our radio show a couple of weeks back - Anthony Rayson from Chicago. He's a white guy who works to publish the writing of prisoners. I would imagine most of these writers are black. Anthony said that the place to be is to stand with those who are actually oppressed. And he feels strongly that he is doing that by working to publish these stories with his own work and money. good for him

Anyway - I have long wondered when Americans would revolt against these oppressors we so obviously have now. And I think that there is no hope with the white people. Even the poor white people have American flags duct-taped to their trailer homes. Brainwashed right?

Probably the real hope comes from blacks and browns and whoever else smart enough and is down low enough to see what this country is really about.

However, if you look at this week's newsletter, you see there is a "Seize D.C." movement planned for September. People actually planning going to DC, as King planned to do before they killed him, and not leave until things change.

Okay, seeya.

Peace
