Dedicated to the idea that Americans don't need to be idiots.

We don't even know who killed John Kennedy,

Robert Kennedy, Martin King.

We don't even know that our own government was involved in the 9/11 attacks, the Oklahoma City bombing, that we killed, murdered children at Waco.

That Sen. Paul Wellstone was murdered.

We don't know whether we really landed on the moon.

We don't really know if there are beings from other planets flying over our cities and farms.

We don't even know that Bigfoot is real.

What do we know?

Well, we don't know as much as we think we do.

Green Day

But it doesn't need to be that way.

Knowledge is power.

You can fix stupid.

“...if any of you have been watching footage, which was not shown on any major media, of the Bradley tanks shooting fire into the compound, which I think went against the party line story, which was that they shot teargas in order to help the mothers and children to get out ... the major news said it was the Branch Davidians who started the fire, and yet I've seen footage of a Bradley tank shooting fire into the compound ... isn't that odd that no major news source has picked up on that ... because that basically means that the government, from the FBI, the ATF, up to Janet Reno and Clinton are liars and murderers ...

“... the Branch Davidians did not start the fire ... they were murdered in cold blood by the pussies, the liars, the scumbags, the ATF ... they burned these fucking people alive, because the message they want to convey to you is state power will always win ... we'll say anything we want over the major media, our propaganda machine, and we'll burn you and your children in your fuckin' homes ... so you just be apathetic America, you stay docile, and don't you ever forget, you're free to do what we tell you.

What is Building 7? What Is The Point of “Building 7”?

The Point Is,

is that the fake killing of Bin Laden was meant to justify all the torture, lies, wars, and murders and be-all-you-can-be-U.S.-Army-total-b.s.

And the fact that Building 7 came down in a controlled demolition means that Bin Laden had nothing to do with it. And that everything we have been told is a lie.

That Barack Obama is a liar, a thief, and a murderer.

That's the point.

Building 7 was a 47-story skyscraper that was part of the World Trade Center complex. It would have been the tallest high-rise in 33 states.

It collapsed at 5:20 pm on September 11, 2001.

It was not hit by an airplane and suffered minimal damage compared to other buildings much closer to the Twin Towers.

“People have to understand. It's easy to get a patsy. Get some joker on a plane ... I mean, it's ridiculous. If you travel around the world you realize that we especially in the United States, we live in a bubble ... especially if you talk to people in Russia ... they know it's propaganda ... we still think it's free press ... and that's our biggest darn problem in this country.

"Noble is brilliantly pioneering the new film-making — incisive analysis, compelling sound and footage, fearless and independent reporting, and the aggregation of the best information out there into powerful, educational and free online feature films – all on a shoestring budget.

His films educate and inform while building the movements needed for real change at the grassroots. Noble's films are dedicated to democracy; they fan the flames of non-violent, people-powered revolution."

"... the American people have been called, by numbers of people all over the world, as being the most dumb-downed population in Western Civilization.

Certainly they are probably among the least, politically and other ways, sophisticated people in western culture.

That's no accident.

And it's no testimony to the lack of intelligence and potential of the citizens of this republic.

It is a testimony to the control of thinking and the flow of information that people are allowed to have. ... the effects of the media and the thought control that has been developed in this country is extraordinary, and it's very difficult to overcome ...

Top US Government Insider: Bin Laden Died In 2001, 9/11 A False Flag

Former Deputy Assistant Secretary of State under three different administrations Steve R. Pieczenik says he is prepared to tell a federal grand jury the name of a top general who told him directly 9/11 was a false flag attack

by Paul Joseph Watson

Prison Planet.com

Top US government insider Dr. Steve R. Pieczenik, a man who held numerous different influential positions under three different Presidents and still works with the Defense Department, shockingly told The Alex Jones Show yesterday that Osama Bin Laden died in 2001 and that he was prepared to testify in front of a grand jury how a top general told him directly that 9/11 was a false flag inside job.

Staged:
White House “Situation Room”
Photos Part Of Bin Laden Fable

"The notion that Obama “saw the terror chief shot in the left eye” live on video is a total fabrication. At best, the photos were cynically misrepresented by the White House and the mainstream media, at worst, they were completely staged to add a contrived dramatic spin to the unfolding wall-to-wall press coverage of the Bin Laden fable, which is becoming more convoluted with each passing day."

"...It's almost in the American mind - that of course the government is our parent, our father, and we almost don't want to think that they're bad ...

..."we live in a dysfunctional society, but nobody wants to talk about living in that dysfunctional society -... they know they're going through the pain, they know it's there, but they don't want to talk about it, so you just do your thing every day... and it's almost like that what's happening here in America." — Bob McIlvaine

During a goodwill trip through Latin America, Vice President Richard Nixon's limousine was attacked with rocks and bottles by an angry crowd and nearly overturned while traveling through Caracas, Venezuela. The crowd was angered by U.S. Cold War policies and their effect on Latin America. Five days earlier in the trip, the Vice President had been shoved, stoned, booed, and spat upon by protesters in Peru.

"Joe Coffee's Revolution"

This cover was done by Marylyn Felion. She lived in Omaha at that time. We were both members of the extremely active Omaha peace community of the 1980s.

Marylyn is a former nun and has been to jail for peace witness at Offutt Air Force Base. She moved to northern California for a while and now has moved back to Omaha.

She still does her art.

Omaha Peace History Fun Fact:

And one time, when the F.B.I. was conducting a pre-dawn raid at a couple of homes, they came to Marylyn's house and while Jean Petersen, Marylyn's 80-year-old housemate, kept the F.B.I. at bay, Marylyn was able to call the local media and when she was led out the door in handcuffs she was able to smile for the cameras.

Awesome job, Marylyn. You rock.

For my first covers, I asked Marylyn to help me and she agreed.

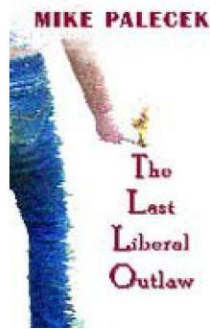

"Joe Coffee" is a fictional account based on my own run for Congress as a Democrat in Iowa. I ran, on my own, as an unemployed, unpublished novelist, with a paper route, against a rich, embedded incumbent.

I drove all over, collected the signatures, won the primary and finally, on an anti-military, anti-prison, pro-immigration platform, got killed in the general election.

But it was a blast. I got 65,500 votes, totally pissed off the Democratic Party, and got to talk about things that candidates should talk about, but almost never do.

"... the great city sprawls with people, some smartly dressed, many of them shabby, a few beautiful but most not, all reduced by the towering structures around them to the size of insects, but scuttling, hurrying, intent in the milky morning sun upon some plan or scheme or hope they are hugging to themselves, their reason for living another day, each one of them impaled live upon the pin of consciousness, fixed up on self-advancement and self-preservation. That, and only that.

— John Updike, "The Terrorist"

"The Last Liberal Outlaw"

Teresa Basile has helped me with many of my books.

She does the layout and often sets up the printing.

She also did the cover for Outlaw.

TLLO is about a small-town editor who fights against the town powers who want to bring in a federal prison to town.

I worked for a few newspapers after my highly successful prison career was over. At first I had high hopes for being a reporter, but I soon found out that the ideals I had envisioned don't exist.

I'm sure they exist, somewhere, look at Gary Webb. But, oh yeah, he's dead.

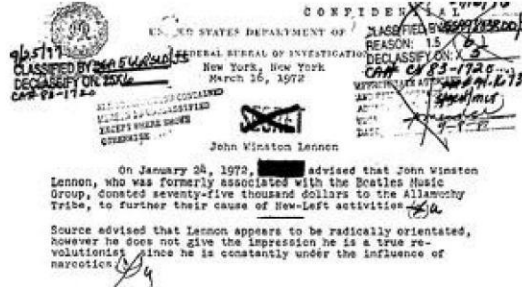

Anyway, Outlaw is about a good reporter.

And if we had good reporters and the high ideals that are supposed to be associated with American journalism, everything would be different right now.

A good reporter gets the commas right, reads his Strunk & White, and his Breslin, and his "Grapes of Wrath," and then goes downtown and faces down the dirty s.o.b.'s, in the dirt street, at noon, with his Macintosh on his hip.

Ooo-rah.

Even More Still?

Yep.

In next week's New American Dream newsletter.

A poem by David Ray, of Tucson:

AN ORIGINAL APPROACH AT THE RECRUITING TABLES

It would be a rather original approach — to speak to a young man or woman on the way into the recruiting station, one that should — but does not — have a sign over the door warning that hell may be not far ahead as soon as you sign up.

But these days you'd have to have such a sign over the entrance to most high schools or community colleges
or universities, or shopping malls,
for the tables laden with propaganda
are everywhere, and officers in apparel that glitters with medals and ribbons are eager to chat and offer dozens of inducements to enlist, and they also mention the heavy penalties for not registering, preparing for the draft,
as inevitable as the wars to come,
as there's always another in sight.

The approach would be this — call it a pitch if you wish. You speak to that person about to sell his or her only life
and maybe not return to claim benefits.
You ask, politely of course, if they really want to delay for years the chief duty and mission of their lives — that is,
learning how to love and be happy.

One boy or girl in a thousand might take you seriously and not sign on.
And therefore, my friend, is it not worth the effort?
