PRINTED ON RECYCLED PAPER

Dear President and Mrs. Barack H. Obama,

Boy Scout Troop 603 in Augusta, Maine has six young men who will be receiving their Eagle Scout Awards on May 20th at American Legion Post #205 at 2 PM and the troop and the families would be delighted if you could take part in this grand event.

The Scouts are:

Jake Antworth
Josh H Antworth
Andrew T Mahaleris
Noah J Aube
Benjamin Jacob Campbell
Devin K Williams

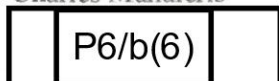

As you know, the Eagle Scout rank is the culmination of their years in Scouting and is received by fewer than 10 percent of all the youth in Scouting. Some notable Eagles include President Gerald Ford, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld, Secretary of Defense Robert Gates, NASA Astronaut James A Lovell, New York Mayor Michael Bloomberg, and Maine State Senators Tom Saviello and Phillip Bartlett.

Each of these six young men had to demonstrate leadership, complete at least 21 challenging merit badges, and plan, develop, and give leadership to others in a service project helpful to any religious institution, any school, or your community. These projects ranged from designing and building a handicapped accessible bridge at Farrington Middle School to extensive work improving Augusta's network of community-use trails. This year, the Boy Scouts of America is celebrating the 100th Anniversary of the 1st Eagle Scout presentation.

We would welcome your participation at the ceremony to honor these young men and would request any letters of commendation or official sentiments if you feel that would be appropriate if you are unable to attend.

We are putting together a book of sentiments for each Scout and would request any commendations be mailed to:

Charles Mahaleris

Thank you for your participation in this ceremony. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions.

Best,

Chuck Mahaleris
Troop 603 Committee

Dear Mr. President:

I recently received the attached letter from Ms. Jessica Stevens, a constituent of ours from Naples, Florida. Jessica suffers from Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy, a rare, neurological disorder. She recently underwent an experimental ketamine coma treatment and is on the path to recovery.

Jessica and her team of physicians will be visiting Washington, D.C. from October 13-17, 2012 to present her case at the American Society of Anesthesiology Conference. On account of her unique healthcare experiences, Jessica has requested to meet with you and Mrs. Obama to share her story.

Accordingly, I'm officially passing along her request for your attention and review. Thank you for your consideration of Jessica's request.

Sincerely,

April 4th, 2012

Dear Senator Nelson,

12 APR 16 PM 12: 20

My name is Jessica Stevens. I live in Naples, Florida and I am 24 years old. However, my life has been nothing like that of other young women my age. I have spent the past six years fighting for my life. I suffer from Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy (RSD), a rare, neurological disorder that causes a wide range of debilitating and extremely painful symptoms.

Three years ago, I was in critical condition and near death. I was paralyzed and confined to a hospital bed. I had to be fed through a feeding tube and suffered from daily seizures. Painful skin lesions covered my body and I was in constant, burning pain, 24/7. I felt as if I had been doused in gasoline and lit on fire.

My arm with RSD skin lesions, 2009

On the McGill pain scale, used by most major hospitals to rate pain scores, RSD ranks higher than the pain of childbirth, cancer and amputation! No pain medications alleviated my pain.

In July of 2009, my parents were told by doctors in the US that I had the worst case of RSD they had ever seen and that we had exhausted all treatment options available. There was little hope for my survival.

I was referred to be evaluated by Dr. Kirkpatrick at the RSD Treatment Center and Research Institute in Tampa Florida. He told us that he believed my last hope for survival was to become part of a clinical research ketamine coma study being conducted in Monterrey, Mexico.

During the procedure I would be placed into a medically induced coma, for seven days, using large amounts of an anesthetic drug called ketamine. This drug has the ability to "shut down and re-start" my brain and my malfunctioning nervous system, much like a computer.

In August 2009, I was flown via private air ambulance from Florida to Monterrey and became patient #23 to undergo the Ketamine Coma.

FOX News in Miami followed me and my journey to Mexico and just last week did a TV interview and update on me and my recovery. Please view it at the following link:

<http://www.wsvn.com/features/articles/specialreport/MI94660/>

Going to Monterrey by air ambulance

August 2009

Due to numerous complications and the severity of my case, what was expected to only be a few months of treatment, turned into a two and a half year rollercoaster ride. I nearly died several times, was hospitalized for fourteen months and underwent three medically induced comas.

Although my journey was far from easy, my treatment was life-saving and my recovery is nothing short of a miracle. This February, I was finally able to return from Mexico back home to Naples-- feeling very well! At this point, I will need to return to Monterrey periodically for follow-up infusions of ketamine to keep my condition stable and in remission, as there currently no cure for RSD. The Ketamine coma treatment is not a cure, however, currently, it is one of the best weapons we have in fighting this devastating disease.

None of the expenses for this treatment are covered by insurance, due to its experimental nature. My mother stayed by my side the entire two years I was hospitalized in Mexico, sleeping on a sofa in my hospital room. I have two younger sisters who were left home in Florida with my father, who is also battling illness. As you can imagine, the monetary, physical and emotional toll of the past three years on my family has been devastating.

My reason for writing to you today is two-fold, first and foremost, to raise awareness of RSD and let you know that someone in your district went through this extraordinary ordeal and experimental treatment with great success.

Secondly, I would like to request a favor. This October (13th-17th), my physicians, from both the US and Mexico, will be presenting my case at the annual American Society of Anesthesiology Conference in Washington DC.

I was wondering if you could help me by having a tour of the White House organized for me and these incredible doctors, who have worked tirelessly on my behalf.

I have never been to the White House, but have always dreamed about going. I can't think of a more special way to get to visit than accompanied by the doctors who saved my life! This tour would be made even more special if I could meet with President Obama and talk with him about my unique healthcare experiences, a cause I know he and Mrs. Obama take very seriously, are very proactive about, and hold dear to their hearts.

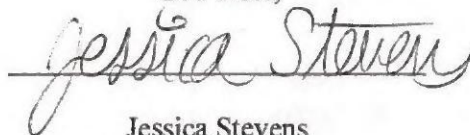

I feel so blessed to have this second chance and I know and trust that God has a plan for saving my life. I feel that the reason I went through all of this and survived is for me to now be the voice for all who are still suffering in tremendous pain with no hope for their futures.

It is now my mission to get ketamine coma therapy approved here for use in the United States, so that others can have a chance at recovery as well. It is my hope that after presenting my case, and success, in Washington, we will be one step closer to that goal!

Thank you for your time and special consideration. You can contact me and my mother, Sarah, at [REDACTED] I look forward to hearing from you soon!

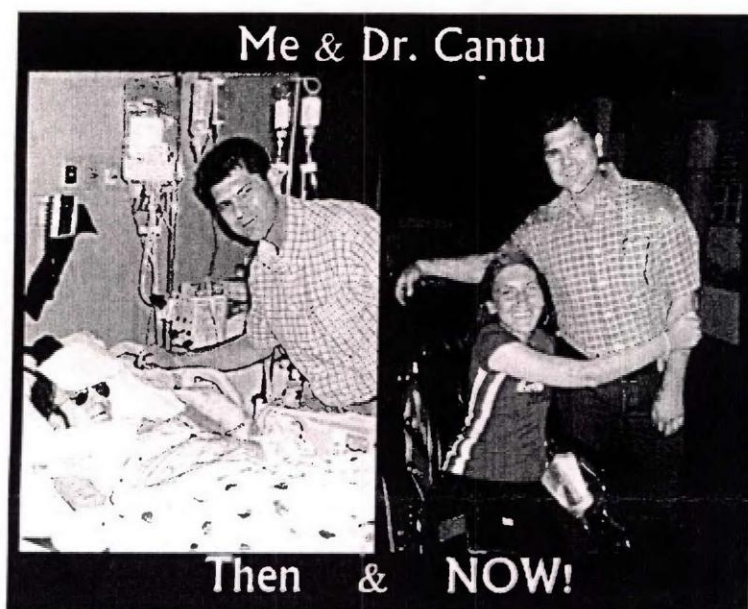

P6/b(6)

God bless,

Jessica Stevens

Flowers hang from the mailbox Thursday at 3427 Marathon Drive in Columbus, where Erell Williams, 69, died in a house fire Wednesday night.

Fatal fire on Marathon Drive

By ALAN RIQUELMY

ariquelmy@ledger-enquirer.com

Antonio Hicks stood Thursday outside the burned home where his adoptive mother died in a fire the night before.

He paused for a moment after carrying belongings from Erell Williams' home, looking at a crumpled piece of paper in his hands bearing the words: Proverbs 3:29.

"Devise not evil against thy neighbor, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee."

It was her favorite verse, Hicks said.

Columbus Fire & EMS

Williams

responded to Erell Williams' home, 3427 Marathon Drive, at 7:19 p.m. Wednesday. They saw flames

12 to 15 feet high sprouting from the back of house when they arrived, said Fire Marshal Ricky Shores.

Firefighters found Erell Williams in a back bedroom, he added.

"It was an obvious fire death when they located the victim," Shores said.

Williams, 69, was always willing to lend a helping hand, said Chris Williams, another of her four sons.

"She was a very church going lady," said Chris Williams. "If she knew you were in need, she'd go out of her way to help you. If you were hungry, she'd feed you. If you were getting evicted, she'd do whatever to help you."

When she wasn't in church, she'd have her TV on a religious station, according to her sons.

"She's in a better place," Chris Williams said. "She's happy. She'd want everyone who loved her to not worry. She'll be all right."

It took firefighters about 20 minutes to control the blaze. The fire caused $50,000 in damage to the home and $30,000 to its contents, Shores said.

Shores said it doesn't appear Erell Williams had a working smoke detector.

"We recommend that people be vigilant and check that they have a working smoke detector in their home," the fire marshal said.

The cause and origin of the fire are under investigation.

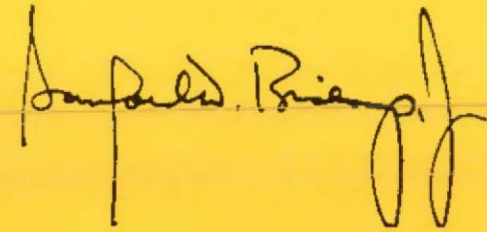

Deputy Coroner Freeman Worley said Williams' body has been sent to Atlanta for an autopsy.

If you can that would be great! They have kits, so you can build them from scratch so you can learn about physics and how certain things work. This can set up careers for building and launching rockets. Also, with robotics they can learn how to build and control robots. There is a possibility that people can have national robotic challenges for schools. Either way, people can learn a lot from these things.

Thank you for supporting recycling. We really need to learn how to take care of the Earth. We have recycling bins at our schools to help out, because you know everything helps.

My family and I would also like cheaper gas prices where I live. The least we pay for gas is around $2.50 a gallon. That is a lot for our family! My family also pays a lot of money to go to the doctor. Could you also lower medical bills? That would be greatly appreciated. Besides these issues, I'm impressed with both of your decisions. Please visit Omaha some day. I hope you take my letter into consideration.

Dear Mr. Obama and Ms. Obama,

P6/b(6)

My name is Tiara and [REDACTED] You can help kids by donating money to kids who have cancer. You should donate money to them because thousand of kids are passing away everyday because their parents don't have the money for their medical bill. You also can help elderly people by donating money to nursing homes because my grandma just passed away a few months ago at a nursing home. Today I watched Ms. Obama's jumping-jack video and it inspired me to stay active. Someday I wish to meet you and your family in person or maybe you can come visit Omaha, Nebraska. Thanks for your time. Have a great day.

Sincerely,
Tiara

Dear President Obama,

P6/b(6)

[REDACTED] and I would like to tell you something very important. I think that you should help kids get into the dentist free (1-18). There should be classes for just girls and just for boys.

The Walgreens prices should be lower like for heart shape box of candy should be $2.00. Helping poor families to have a good home. I am living a great life with my aunt and my brother and sister. Another thing you should do is let girls, vote, play games like football and in restaurant let kids 30 % off the price it is because people are not rich and famous. Well some people are but not all

Every year you should give every child a day at the YMCA. I think that you should let every kid in the World should go to the museums. Mr. President lots and lots of people want stuff but you can only give so much. I think that 17-18 should start to get them ready to driving.

Sincerely,

nevaeh

Dear President Obama,

[REDACTED] I will be telling you about how you can help other kids that are poor and needs clothes and others things that will help them .I was thinking you can help kids by giving them clothes and food and a home. Another thing was that you can give a community swimming pool in the behind of schools in the summer time. I really enjoy living in the United States. And I was wondering if you could give kids brand new school supplies each year when kids go to school for kids that are poor. Also I was thinking you can give schools money so we can go to more advance field trips. I appreciate that you give help for the United States. This was a message for you to help other kids be more healthier and active. I hope I'll get to see you and first lady and your kids one day!

Sincerely,
Samuel

Dear Mr. President

My name is Brianna and [REDACTED]

P6/b(6)

[REDACTED] I think your daughter is about my age I would like to hear more about her and be her friend because I have a few friends but some are mean and bully me. So how do you stop bullying? They talk behind peoples back and call people names. But they are my bff's if you don't know what it means it means best friends forever but I just don't want to be rude and say I not going to be your friend anymore because you are being mean to people. How can I help stop the bullying?

P6/b(6)

Also I want people to help other animals that are stranded somewhere alone in dark they don't deserve that there animals and they don't know what to do so I want to help them. I love animals I could never ever hurt one. My dog is more then family to me and my hamsters along with my fish. I know it's crazy but I love them. It's not fair to them they get to live a horrible life and we live a happy joyful life. We need to help the life of animals. We have to save them. People hurt them for no reason. What did they do wrong? I want to help. I hope you read my letter.

Dear Mr. President,
Hi! My name is Sadiya and

P6/b(6)

I would like you to donate more money with people that have babies which are born premature. You could help kids by eating healthier foods with grains vitamins ,and minerals. You also could help them by not smoking and not drinking stuff with alcohol in them.

You could also help kids not bully or tease each other. I think kids would like to go biking at school on there free time when their teacher says they could .They would have a bicycle trail around the school. I think they would have a lot of fun out there.

Sometimes I don't like when people smoke because it feels like they don't know what they are doing to there heart and lungs. Im going to be a doctor when I am older.First,I will probably work as a nurse first. I will have to learn a lot of math like decimals and mixed numbers and I'm good at it. You are an awesome president .I hope you get elected again.

Yours truly,
Sadiya

and I think changing the dollar bill to coins is a great idea. But that's a matter of opinion. I will give you a couple of reasons why you should change it to coins

:It is easier to count

:You can hear it so you know where it is

:it is easier to find

But there is two more things I want to talk about.

P6/b(6)

so I want to you and the people of the United States Of America to help people get out of cancer. But lucky for me broke free like a gorilla busting out of a cage . Please help make people break free of cancer . Now I want to tell you about something I made up for cancer it's called PENNIES FOR PEOPLE . I have the whole design figured out .

I wanted to know what it is like for you to be a president? What would be one your jobs if you didn't have the job of the president? I like seeing pictures of your family on TV bicycling. The First Lady is a good influence by doing jumping jacks and having the school children come and learn how to garden. I like how she's getting kids to be more active and healthy. I see her on the Disney Channel and commercials promoting everyone to make healthy choices.

I have a brother and a sister. My brother loves to play his video games and my younger sister Teagan sometimes gets on my nerves but I love her anyways. I also think your daughters are very pretty and I just adore your dog, Bo, he is so cute. I think you can help by making sure that all the people in Africa or in other countries have enough food, water and medicine.

I liked how you pulled the troops out of Iraq. A thing I think should be done is you should tax celebrities and Athletes more to help us get out of debt. Because the United States is in debt of 14.7 to 14 trillion dollars. They need to because they blow money on having 4 cars and 10 TV's that could help the United States get out of debt. I think you are doing a great job with our country. I do have a request that more people with disabilities can have jobs. I request this because a lot of people with disabilities are simply out of a job and its even harder to get one once their hurt. Finally I request that schools give more children opportunities to show what they know and can do. Finally If you write back I would like to know is it hard to run a country, have a family, and find even the least bit of freetime. Altogether I hope you take my suggestions into consideration.

One thing that bothers me is the polar bears. I love all animals. I think we should all help them out. When the ice melts, the seals go away, when the seals go away the polar bears starve. I do run a bit for about 50 min. on the elliptical machine and about 30 min. on the treadmill in training for a 5k in Disneyworld. It will be my second 5k. I have an interest in astronomy and in rocks, especially in birthstones. I also own a dog, but it is a German Shepherd, so it is much larger. Thank you for being the 44th president of the United States. You have given us hope for our country. I feel it is true when you say that we've come so far, and we ~~must~~ mustn't give up. I feel safe in the United States.

However, I feel we should act on the debt that has spread throughout the United States. I think we should reduce the amount of people who do not have ~~current~~ current jobs, and long have searched for one. I wish and hope that the wealthy could pay higher ~~taxes~~ taxes than the people who do not have as much money. I feel this could balance out between the wealthy and the non-wealthy. I also really think that college should be more affordable to help students succeed in future life. I hope you can support these changes or at least put these into consideration.

I think it's great your family spends your time ~~on~~ supporting ~~exercise~~ exercise and other campaigns. An example is supporting Kony 2012.

Or, when renewable resources fail, like ~~there~~ if a dam breaks, or a hurricane rips off solar panels. Dear Mr. President,

I am an ardent supporter of you. I think u have done a great job and believe you are going to make a great impact on American history. Your charismatic approach and work is commendable. Today, Americans are very proud of you, especially African Americans, they can hold their heads high, looking up to you and gaining confidence in themselves that one day they can also become Presidents. I am a successful business man, originally from Pakistan, educated in US and have lived here for the last 37 years. American culture, its history and its founding fathers have made a great impact on me and my lifestyle.

Today, I see, the sad circumstances my native Pakistan is going thru. I want to help and I need your help. By helping Pakistan, indirectly I will also be helping the US; a stable Pakistan is in the best interest of everybody. I believe I am a visionary, peoples person and can bring humanity together, especially the peoples of India, US and Pakistan.

US is perfect example and a role model for the world as to how the government is set up, secular vs. non-secular. My native country Pakistan is suffering today because of a theocratic state which the founding fathers did not propose or envisioned. Thru out my life, I have come across peoples of all walks of life, this diverse experience has made me realize that all people are same deep inside with same needs and aspirations. This very experience has made me a well-rounded person. I have lived in Northern and Southern parts of US, also in all the 4 provinces of Pakistan and speak most their languages fluently. I have been trying to clear many misconceptions among the people of Pakistan about the West, India and especially the US. My feedback and presence within the people of Pakistan is very important, especially the top government. I have two goals, eventually to see Pakistan as a Secular State, have a very friendly relationship with Pakistan neighbor India, open up trade etc. between both nations and resolve all disputes. I am a consistent writer on face book, please visit my face book and go thru my wall and u will know what I mean.

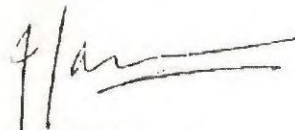

What I would like to request is that anytime you have Pakistani State dinners or meets, I would like to be present there. I need to talk to Pakistani officials about my ideas of a better Pakistan and a better world. I also do have political aspirations of my own in Pakistan politics. [redacted] my input and experience in life should be a great asset to the US and Pakistan. It is time for me to do some civil work now, I have attained success in my personal life and it is time to give some back and make lives better for others.

Sir, with your help, it may further make your Presidency strong and history will consider u as one of the greats, which I believe u will be among the great anyway. You have a wonderful family and my regards to them...

Sincerely, truly Irfan Bokhari

Dear President Obama:

Thank you for your service to our country in these difficult and complex times. As the 44th U.S. President your efforts to benefit the people of our country and the impact you have on the entire earth, is well documented. You will live forever in the history books of America, the very same books that record many other great events and heroes of our day. Other heroes will be lost to oblivion and long forgotten unless someone happens to record the vital role they have played on behalf of their fellow man.

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing to introduce you to a great Colorado hero, Mr. Joseph Conklin LaNier, II. One of the first African Americans to receive the rank of seaman before the desegregation of the Armed Forces by President Truman, Mr. LaNier served with the 23rd Special Navy Construction Battalion in the battles of Iwo Jima and Okinawa. He is a model citizen, someone who has received many commendations and deserves each and every one of them. I have spoken about him on the Senate Floor, and last December I was fortunate enough to host a celebration in honor of Mr. LaNier in Denver, Colorado with his family in attendance.

Mr. LaNier has written to you regarding the care of our Veterans, especially those who have been disabled during their service. I have enclosed a copy of Mr. LaNier's letter, as well as a copy of my floor statement and the American Legion article Mr. LaNier wrote entitled, "My War on Two Fronts."

Mr. LaNier is a great reminder of the important service provided by the members of our Armed Forces. His main hope is that we do not forget those who have served, especially those who need our help the most. Mr. President, thank you for taking the time to read Mr. LaNier's letter. I know this will mean so much to him.

Sincerely,

Michael F. Bennet

The Honorable Barack Obama
President of these United States
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue - NW
Washington, D.C. - 20500

Mr. President,

I am a WWII veteran, 23rd Special Navy C.B. (Construction Battalion); I served in the battle of Iwo Jima and Okinawa. I am asking that you use whatever method possible to make certain that the disabled veterans are NOT FORGOTTEN, 5 - 10 - 15 - 20 years from now. Let me, briefly, describe why I ask this of you:

In July of this year The Greatest Generations Foundation (which sends WWII veterans back to visit where they served) asked me to be one of those people to go to Germany for a morale booster for the troops from the Middle East in the hospital there. The trip was canceled and the Foundation sent us to Washington, D.C. to visit Walter Reed hospital for the same purpose. We visited the Prosthetic units. I must tell you, I was not emotionally prepared for what I saw; I saw a 22 year old with no legs. I had to leave the room, I was in tears. I saw a 19 year old who lost a leg below the knee. I saw a 20 year old with an arm and leg gone. His parents with his 12 year old brother were visiting. Again I had to leave the room. The Foundation sent 5 wounded Marines with us, one with a prosthesis from the hip. Half way through our visit he could not continue to walk with us. Mr. President, these kids are in my head everyday. I am absolutely passionate, that periodic NATIONAL contact with disabled veterans should occur. Retired Chaplains, all over the country, could be used to do this, for example. I also, am aware there has to be priorities. Let me quote from a prayer written by martyred Archbishop Oscar Romero, "...We can not do everything, and there is a sense of liberation in realizing that. This enables us to do something and do it very well..." We can, and need to, do this for these patriots, so many of them Kids, and that is what some of them are, kids, to a WWII old warhorse like myself. Every kid we talked to said they would go back to help their comrades.

After our visit, I had no question about the care these people received at the hospital; it was excellent, 24/7. But I asked myself, Mr. President, 5 - 10 - 15 - 20 years from now who visits these patriots to say, "Thank you for your service." Will these patriots be sitting alone some place asking themselves, "Has America forgotten me?" Locally in every state I have no doubt there are organizations that address many problems these people have and do it well. But, do we have a national approach to see to it that periodically, contact is made to these Wounded Warriors to make sure they do not feel forgotten? I have not talked to anyone who knows if we do or do not. If we do, I apologize for my ignorance, if we do not, please help us.

Here is what I am doing. I am helping Senator Bennet with his efforts to look into many benefits for Colorado Vets. I am in contact with Brigadier General Sal Villano, USAF, Ret. I have contacted Col. George Meister, (Chaplin) USAF, and Lt Col Hal Bidlack, Gen. Sal Villano, Ret., Steffan Tubbs of KOA-AM radio and I hope to work with the American Legion Commander (Post 1260 here) Jack Paulsen and Jim Blaine of Coopers Troopers to try and start a process locally with the hope it will help us reach our objective to have a national organization to be sure in the out years, these warriors know they have not been forgotten.

Allow me, Mr. President, to thank you in advance for whatever assistance you can provide us. I will keep you informed.

Sincerely,

J. (Joseph) Conklin LaNier, II

Dear, Mrs. Digna Alvarez, Regional Director

I would like to thank you for returning my telephone call on Friday. I know you are a very busy person and taking time out of your schedule to call me means a great deal. I thank you. Per your request the following three items are addressed below.

Let me introduce myself my name is Marc E. Klein, CEO of Tribute of Honor, Incorporated. A Florida based corporation. This letter will request several elements. Enclosed in this e-mail are three different event calendars which I talked about and are inclusive in this response.

I am a retired professional firefighter who worked in Central Florida for 31 years. Since my retirement I have been creating special history event calendars, writing the National Emergency Response Plan for North America and designing the First and Second Ladies Corporate Seals.

The following is an overview of my request.

- A. During my research I noticed that there were not any Seals representing the First and Second Ladies of the United States. I created one and had them Copy written and Trademarked. These seals are 10" in diameter and have seven different dimensional levels. All hand painted in Red, White and Blue with Gold rope style around the edges.

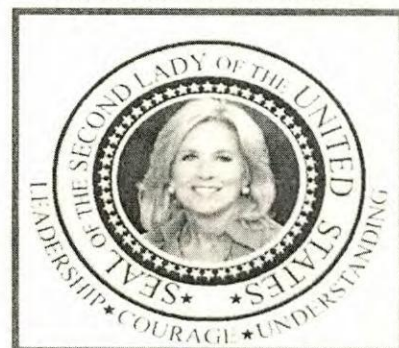

Actual Seal for Textbooks

Actual Seal

Actual Seal for Textbooks

These are the first ever produced his/her corporate Presidential and First Ladies Seals. We would like to send one of each to the Presidential Library, Museum, and/or their Homes to include the First Ladies Library in Canton, Ohio. Imagine seeing both seals in a wood mahogany shadowbox. Elegant and beautiful. Each seal can be purchased separately with their own shadow box. I wrote to Mr. George Clooney and ask them to showcase this at their event on May 10th, 2012 in Los Angeles and do a silent action. The first one ever made! I cannot even imagine what this shadowbox will bring into the campaign.

The National Democratic Convention can also showcase and sell them during the convention. We can have our art director design T-shirts, picture frames, campaign buttons and hats all displaying the President and the First Ladies Seals as well as the Vice-President and Second Ladies Seals.

During the State of the Union Address where the First and Second Ladies sit in the balcony they can have their seals draped over the balcony proudly displaying them for the World to see. You are not taking anything away during the President's speech you are enhancing the balcony and honoring our First and Second Ladies of the United States. While the First and Second Ladies travel across America they can place their seals in front of the podium.

Here is my situation. The First and Second Ladies seals were designed, Copy written and Trademarked by Tribute of Honor, Incorporated. During my attorney's review of the First and Second Ladies Corporate Seals the research reveled that I could produce and sell them to the citizens around the world.

As for the Seal of the President I am not allow to sell the original art work. However my attorney advised me that I can change the words around and then mass produce them. I am not at that level yet. He also advised me to contact the Federal Register's Office in Washington DC, my Senator that represents me in the district and the White House.

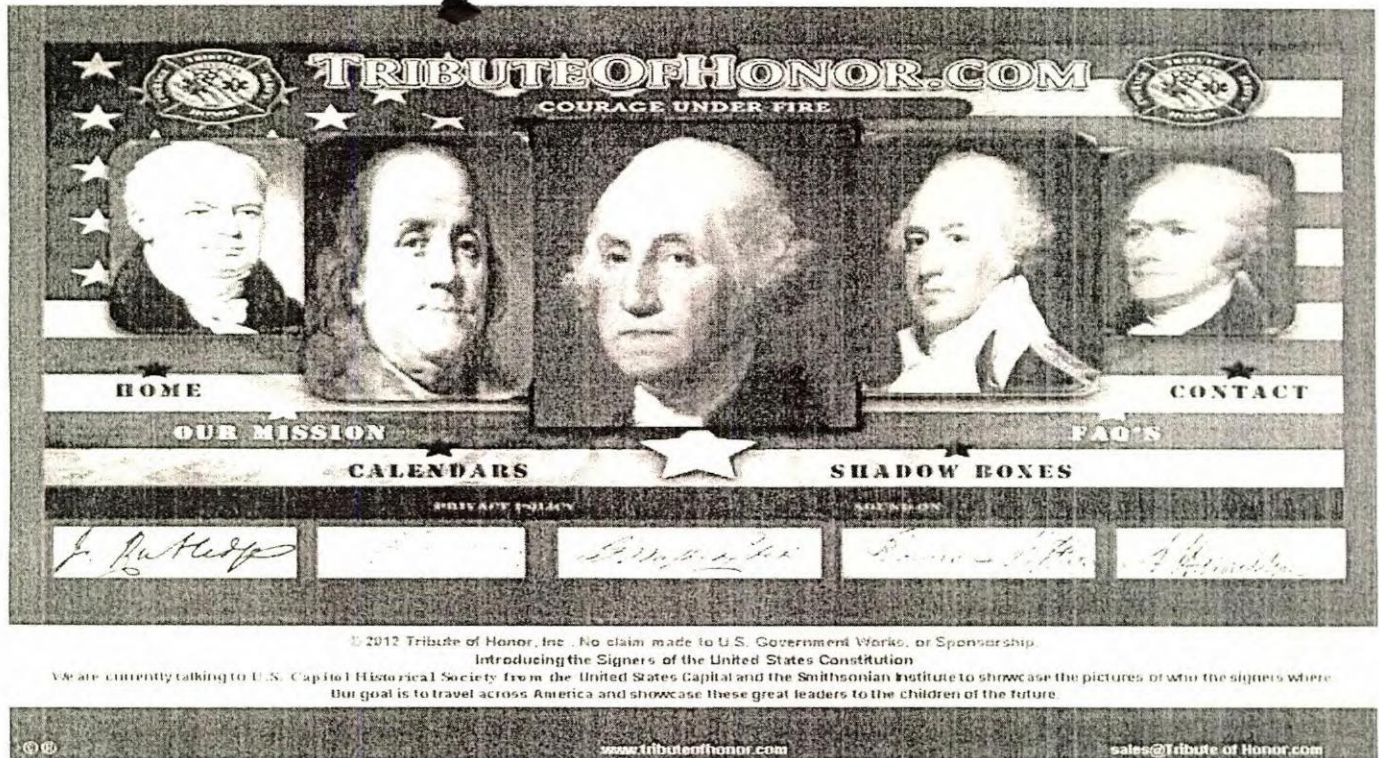

I talked directly to an attorney who works at the Federal Register's office in Washington, DC last week. She advised me to follow my attorney's advice and she stated that the office nor her position cannot grant me this wish. I wrote the White House on Tuesday, April 17, 2012, as of yet I have not heard anything. Then I notified your office. In the attachment of this letter you will also find the First and Second Ladies calendars.

Our teaching calendar's are designed to teach the children around the World who our First and Second Ladies of the United States were and are and what they stand for. They all display great Leadership, Courage by Understanding their role an Humanitarian representing the Presidency of the United States . Hence there corporate seals were developed.

I would like Senator Nelson to see who I can contact at the White House or if he can put my request into a bill for final disposition. I believe that Senator Nelson can talk directly to President Obama who can authorize the President and Vice-President seals as they appear above. I do not want to violate any Federal Laws and I realize I am on the edge. I only made one seal. No other seals have been ordered or produced.

We are going to offer the seals in different venues. Happy Mother's Day on top of the arch and the Mother's name on the bottom of the arch then we will place their Mothers picture in the middle.

Thinking outside the box each Senator, Congressman, House of Representative, Hall of Famers, Happy Father's Day, Happy Grandparent's Day and even our leaders from the past can have one of their own corporate picture seals for their office. Our design has touched the hearts of other countryman around the globe.

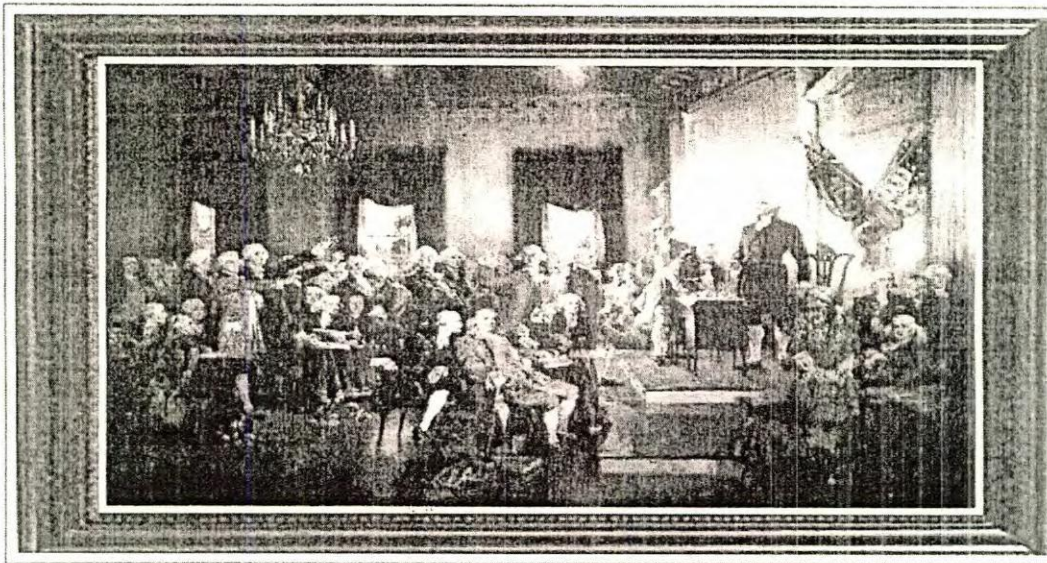

United States Constitution

- B. I noticed during my research that the signer's of the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution has not displayed individual pictures in a way that a child or an adult can truly learn who the forefathers of our country really were. I created the first history event calendar's that extracted the photographs of each signer. I am planning to travel around our country to display these men to the children of today, because just maybe one student who had an opportunity to visit such a powerful display might be our future president.

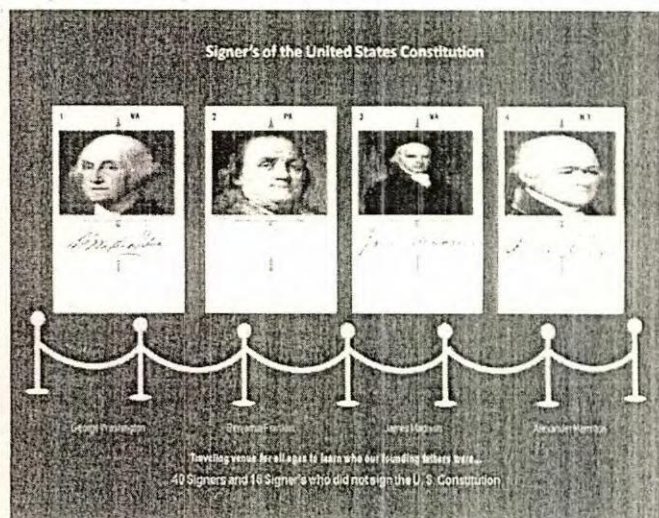

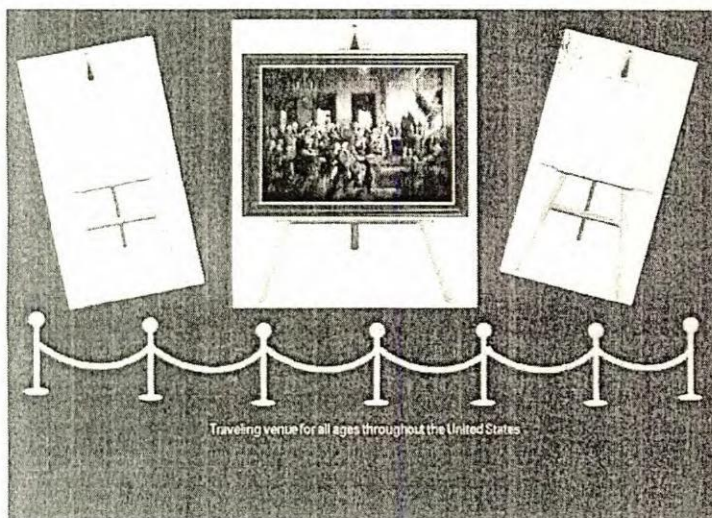

Each picture is set in a 18" x 22" frame with the signer's signature underneath. I would like to showcase each set in the Smithsonian Institute and display a set in the Rotunda in the U.S. Capital Building if at all possible.

The visitors can better appreciate and understand who these leaders really were and how they have the opportunity to connect with the citizens across America and around the World. Personally, I am still amazed at the foresight of these leaders and how our Constitutional rights were written 235 years ago and still apply to us today. Yes, I understand the that our Constitution has been slightly rewritten, modified and even amended. However these words are still echo in the chamber of our leaders of today.

Our nation was born and nearly 236 years later a special tribute to our forefathers can be displayed in the Rotunda or the Smithsonian Institute. There is enough time to create, make, ship and to bring this idea to a reality. The week of July 4th will be a great time to showcase these two venues. Then shortly after that we are going to take these venues across America.

I will send my other request in a second email. My concern is the approval of the President and Vice-President Corporate Seal and displaying the Declaration of Independence and U.S. Constitution venue on display in the U.S. Capital and Smithsonian Institution. Thank you and God bless you and Senator Bill Nelson.

Dear Senator Murray:

I am writing this letter hoping that you or your office can facilitate our school children from Los Angeles, California, and Longview, Washington to perform at the White House and/or with a few patriotic songs written by myself, and my colleagues: James Astle and Chris Stevens. They are teachers in the Los Angeles area school districts, and I do substitute work with a choir in Longview, Washington. We all worked together before my retirement, and know the music, have the student choirs, and are ready to perform.

I am sending you a copy of the letter sent to President Obama, May 10, 2012, a copy of the lyrics, a copy of an article that was published in the Honolulu Advertiser in 1966, my discharge papers from the United States Marine Corps, my resume with a work experience, a CD, and DVD of our music: "When We All Come Home."

I would appreciate your support, and kind consideration in our endeavor to show our patriotism with our choirs in Los Angeles, and Washington. Our choirs practice together via Skype (Sky peer-to-peer). Please let me know if this project between two states and, three school district is possible, and can be facilitated by your office.

Respectfully,

James Mossman

Dear Mr. President and Mrs. Obama:

It has been ten years since the beginning of the war in the Middle East, Iraq and now in Afghanistan. Ten years ago I sat down to write a coming home song for my school, country, and I guess for myself. It was a song with deep meanings that went back to 1966, and Vietnam. I left that war as a Marine Corps Sargent with mixed feelings, and to this day still deal with some of the events of that war. That is why this song is so important. It brings to a close a lifetime of wars that I experienced over the last seventy years, you see I was born during WW II, 1942, in Honolulu, Hawaii. Some day, perhaps our children or grandchildren will be born into a world with no hunger, poverty, injustice, or war, but till then we can only work, hope, teach, and pray for world peace.

My students in the Carver Elementary, and Wittman Elementary School Choir (ABC Unified School District in Los Angeles) have graduated, and I have retired to Washington State where I am a substitute teacher, and a volunteer. I presently work with the Longview School District Choir at Columbia Valley Gardens Elementary School. It is a different choir, but we are singing the same song, "When We All Come Home." Our choir would like to sing this song at the White House. I am aware that this is a long shot, and you have many more important issues at hand, but if there is the slightest possibility that this could become a reality, we know our students would do their very best.

I am sending the lyrics with this letter and a CD/DVD the children singing our song. Enjoy!

Most Respectfully,

James Mossman

When We All Come Home
written by: James Mossman
James Astle
Chris Stevens

From sea to shining sea,
We will send our nation's best.
One hundred soldiers true and brave,
Begin their journey and their quest.
One hundred fathers look with pride.
One hundred mothers softly cry.

When we all come home
Will the band begin to play,
Will the flags be proudly waving,
Will the crowds come out to cheer us.

When the bugle starts to blow,
And the big guns start to rumble,
And the battle cry begin,
Give us strength God from within.
Will the yellow ribbons be there,
Will the young and old salute us.

When we all come home,
Will the band begin to play
Will the flags be proudly waving
Will the crowds come out to cheer us.

Instrumental Bridge

When the bugle starts to blow,
And the big guns start to rumble,
And the battle cry begin,
Give us strength God from within.
Will the yellow ribbons be there
Will the young and old salute us

When we all come home,
Will the band begin to play,
Will the flags be proudly waving,
Will the crowds come out to cheer us.
When the battles come and gone,
Where Alexander fought before us.
Will justice, liberty, prevail here,
On sacred battlefields of freedom.

When we all come home,
Will the band begin to play,
Will the flags be proudly waving,
Will the crowds come out to cheer us.

Where all the heroes pray for courage,
Under the flag we call Old Glory.

Waimanalo Marine's Bed His Poncho--If He Sleeps

By BOB KRAUSS

DA NANG — A young man in a GI haircut will walk into the Barefoot Bar in Honolulu in about a month to listen to his cousin, Sterling Mossman, tell funny stories.

The young man is Sgt. James Mossman of Waimanalo, a 23-year-old Marine, who has quite a story to tell himself.

It is a story about mud and exhaustion and danger and a shirt with holes in it. Since Sgt. Mossman is a modest young man who does not want to worry his parents, I will tell his story on my own responsibility.

Because this story is what it means to be a Marine on the outer perimeter here at Da Nang.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Mossman of Waimanalo.

For the past five months Sgt. Mossman has been squad leader for a machine-gun unit at an outpost of the 1st Battalion, 9th Marines.

His job day after day and night after night has been to go out and patrol the area around his command post to try to stop the Viet Cong from attacking the post, or stealing rice from Vietnamese farmers or terrorizing the villages nearby.

I DON'T know if you understand what this means. I didn't.

It means that for the past five months Sgt. Mossman has been sleeping on the ground. He has eaten cold, canned C rations morning noon and night. He is in almost constant danger.

That is the worst part because it wears on the nerves.

"So far so good," he told me after I'd given him a letter from Hawaii. "I have a utility shirt that I keep. It has a hole in the right sleeve, a hole in the left sleeve and two holes in the pocket right over the heart."

"I go those holes one night when we didn't think,

MOSSMAN

"Then they opened up with mortars. I was only half awake. The platoon sergeant rolled me half way into a hole when we got a direct hit. The concussion blew me the rest of the way into that hole. My shirt was hanging right where I'd been sleeping."

"I keep it to remind myself that here, you can never let your guard down. It's a matter of keeping yourself alert, mentally and physically. So far I've gone through five gun squads. The others have been either killed or wounded or transferred."

"I'm just waiting for the day when I can lie down and go to sleep and not have to worry."

HERE IS SGT. Mossman's typical daily schedule:

He rolls out of his poncho (which has been his home for five months) for a breakfast of C rations. At 8 a.m. he starts on a patrol carry

Next to a letter, a home-town newspaper is the most welcome reading to Americans in Viet Nam. If you would like to have The Advertiser sent to a serviceman for a month, please send $2.50 to the American Legion Auxiliary, 612 McCully, which has a list of Hawaii servicemen in Viet Nam and is seeking funds to send newspapers to them.

ing the machine-gun which is the heavy weapon for a squad of about 13 men.

The patrol slogs through jungle and rice paddies, always careful never to expose itself to Viet Cong snipers.

By noon the Marines are back at camp and another patrol has begun. Sgt. Mossman has a cold lunch, then cleans his machine-gun of the mud it has collected during the patrol. That takes a couple of hours.

By that time the afternoon has passed. At about 6 p.m. Sgt. Mossman goes out with another patrol that lasts till about midnight.

Then he rolls up in his poncho is my home. I take a bath in a rice paddy once in a while.

"The idea is to travel light. The more ammunition and the less gear you can carry the better off you are."

"We have to keep clean shaven in case we get hit in the face. A beard makes it hard to treat a face wound. We never use anything like after-shave lotion because they can smell it. You get a whole patrol that's used shaving lotion and they get downwind of you they know exactly where you are."

"The worst part of it is, you can never relax. You sleep with your weapon loaded. I'll be glad when I can lie down and forget."

IT SHOULDN'T be long now. He has only a few months more to serve in the Marine Corps. He was taken off of patrol duty two weeks ago. He expects to reach Hawaii about Feb. 15 and one of the first places he'll visit is the Barefoot Bar.

"But before that I'm going to stop in St. Matthew's Church in Waimanalo. It's just a little mission but I went there the day before I enlisted. I always stop there first when I go back. Even if you don't believe in God I figure getting back can't be just dumb luck."

"You see, I was a chaplain's assistant when I came to Viet Nam. But so many of my buddies got killed I decided to do something where I could do some good."

Right now, as he waits out his time, Sgt. Mossman has only one real problem; whether to go to college or to re-enlist in the Marine Corps.

I don't know about you. But he has made me tre-

"THAT'S THE way it's been for the past five months. We're usually too tired to do anything else. One thing about being in the field, you never know how much you can do without until you go out there. This

About Jim

Jim Mossman has been an educator for over thirty-five years. Teaching at the elementary school level in Long Beach and Cerritos, California for many of those years. Jim gained a unique understanding of children's natural tolerance of each other. Beginning with his first two students, Karl and Matt, both autistics. They were not only his students but also his neighbors for over thirty years. To this day, they still call him to ask questions or help solve problems in their world. Jim developed a passion to teach with a special spirit and to use his music, his plays, skits and puppets as a catalyst to involve the whole child in the process of learning. His theme has always been teaching peace first, manners second, and citizenship as a skill in progress. He has used music and materials from Sesame Street to Shakespeare and along the way created his own CD, All The Colors of Love, an anthology of his music.

The principal of Wittman Elementary allowed Jim to incorporate his musical format into the gifted programs on a trial basis. The experiment was so successful that Jim's program was included in the language arts program at elementary and middle schools. He was the first teacher to have his school perform at the Cerritos Center for the Performing Arts in Los Angeles California. Some of the music, dances, and skits were written and performed by his students. On the heels of that success, Jim tried using his music as a learning tool for developmentally disabled students. Students from preschool through high school all improved dramatically, and Jim had another success on his hands. Jim has enjoyed teaching through music so much that over the last 10 years he has used the free hour in his teaching schedule to bring his music to the preschoolers, and kindergarten through sixth grade throughout schools in Long Beach, Cerritos, and Artesia, California.

Jim has taught students at all grade levels from kindergarten through high school and graduate school, California State University Dominguez Hills. He has been a consultant for charter schools in the state of Hawaii and Amritsar schools in Punjab India. He has worked with gifted students; he has worked with developmentally disabled students; he has worked with students, children and adults, who have suffered severe brain damage due to illness or injury, and he has achieved measurable results with all of them. Jim has developed programs that help students of all ages achieve more than they think possible. The most important message in his life is a quote from Antoine de Saint-Exupery's classic, The Little Prince, "One sees clearly only with the heart. Anything essential is invisible to the eyes."

This last school year in Longview, he has shared his music with the Pre-School Program at LCC and at a private pre-school, Kid's World.

MAY 7 2012

Dear Mr. Neal,

I am enclosing a letter that I wrote to President Obama, originally on March 5, 2012. I sent the letter electronically on The White House website. I did not get a response, or even an acknowledgement that it was received. I have since sent it again, but I am hoping you can help me get my message across.

I am a proud American, and a proud father of a US Marine Officer. I understand the reasons why we went to war in Afghanistan, and I also understand that in war, things rarely go as planned. The fact that we are still there, after a decade, doesn't surprise me. [REDACTED]

P6/b(6)

[REDACTED] Every single time I watch the news or read the newspaper or listen to the radio and learn about the death of yet another American, my heart goes out to the surviving families. It was difficult from the start, although it was easier in a way for all of us who didn't pay that price. We all felt that the lives lost in Afghanistan were unavoidable, and a horrible necessity for the sake of America's safety. But war, as always, is an investment of diminishing returns.

I realize that there are complexities about this war in Afghanistan that will never be made known to me. From my perspective, we have severely crippled Al Qaeda and sent most of the surviving members running. We got Bin Laden. We have injured the Taliban, who had given safe haven to Al Qaeda, who had oppressed the Afghan people, and who had defied us while we tried to protect America. We have trained the Afghan National Army and given them a chance to defend themselves. Doing any more than that, at this point, is not worth one more American life. Not one.

President Obama has announced his plans for withdrawal of our forces. Yet it is a graduated withdrawal which leaves so many of our military personnel in harm's way. In fact those who are left there will likely be in even greater danger since they will have less support. And we are ostensibly continuing our presence there because... well... because why? Because we think we could kill one more member of Al Qaeda? Because we are concerned for the safety of the Afghan people if we leave too early? Because it would be embarrassing if the Taliban took over after we left? We didn't get into this war to save the Afghan people. We began helping them as a consequence of war and to gain their assistance and support. And now we feel we have to continue. Has a favor now become an obligation? As I see it, none of that justifies one more American life. Not one. Whenever we leave Afghanistan, it will soon return to what it was before we arrived. So we should be leaving now, completely, and as quickly and as safely as we can.

[REDACTED] We are still grateful to you for giving my son, [REDACTED] his nomination to the US Naval Academy. As you will read in my letter to the president, he promised my son and every other Naval Academy graduate that he would never put them in this position. Please help my letter find Mr. Obama. He needs to be reminded of his promise. And we need to save some lives.

Thank you and best regards,

Dear Mr. President,

You shook my son's hand.

P6/b(6)

It was [redacted] one of the proudest days of my life, at the US Naval Academy, after you gave a very eloquent graduation address. My son, [redacted] graduated that day and was commissioned as a US Marine Corps officer. The Marine Corps: "The President's Own". I cried that day, out of pride. I have a picture of you and my son, shaking hands, displayed in my home. I have another in my office at work.

P6/b(6)

P6/b(6)

[redacted] whatever that means these days. It's hard to know who you can trust anymore. So I look at that picture and what I see is a patriotic and trustworthy young man shaking the hand of his president, our president, who I believe to be a patriotic and trustworthy man as well. That picture serves as a reminder of that day and of the encouraging words you spoke to all of us. And out of everything you said, what I remember most was a promise you made to them. You told them that you would never put them in harm's way without a very good reason, and that if you did so, you would provide everything they needed to get the job done and to maximize their safety. That was your promise to everyone there, and then you shook the hands of all those incredible young men and women.

P6/b(6)

[redacted]
[redacted] And yet you have declared that we are withdrawing our forces in Afghanistan. Though I applaud you for taking steps to end the war, I am beside myself as to why we would send anyone else there, or leave any of our troops there, with decreasing support. If there is any meaningful job left to be done, a weakening of our presence there will not help those who are sent or those who remain. Nor will it give them everything they need to come home safely to their families. That's what you promised on that day, to all the families, and to all the US Naval Academy graduates, including my son. I can only imagine the complexities of all the decisions you must make. But you made a promise.

And you shook my son's hand.

Mr. Obama, as the father of a proud marine officer, I ask you to bring them all home, and not to send anyone else's son to fight, increasingly alone and with decreasing support, to a now useless and meaningless war in Afghanistan. You promised all of us.

And you shook my son's hand.

Respectfully,

Gary Shaw

Dear Mr. President:

In 1998, five Cuban men— Gerardo Hernández, Ramón Labañino, Antonio Guerrero, Fernando González, and René González - were arrested on serious charges while monitoring extremist anti-Cuba groups in southern Florida. Tried in Miami in 2001, they received sentences adding up collectively to four life sentences plus 77 years. They have nearly exhausted their appeals.

Amnesty International recently expressed "serious doubts about the fairness and impartiality of their trial." In its appeal to U.S. Attorney General Eric Holder, that group stated: "No evidence was presented against them at trial to show that the accused had actually handled or transmitted a single classified document or piece of information."

Amnesty International cited the United Nations Working Group on Arbitrary Detention that in 2005 judged U.S. judicial shortcomings to be "of such gravity that they confer the deprivation of liberty of these five persons an arbitrary character." Amnesty International is now seeking "review of the case by the US executive authorities through the clemency process or other appropriate means."

We, the undersigned, join in calling for prompt action taken by your administration to free the Five Cuban prisoners and allow their return to Cuba.

Dear Mr. President:

Five Cuban men— Gerardo Hernández, Ramón Labañino, Antonio Guerrero, Fernando González, and René González — were arrested in 1998. They faced these major charges: conspiracy to commit espionage for two of them and that charge plus conspiracy to commit murder for one more. They claim to have been monitoring extremist anti-Cuba groups in southern Florida. Collectively, their sentences totaled four life sentences plus 77 years. Their appeals process is nearly exhausted.

On October 4, 2010, Amnesty International appealed to U.S. Attorney General Eric Holder, raising "serious doubts about the fairness and impartiality of their trial." Amnesty International stated: "No evidence was presented against them at trial to show that the accused had actually handled or transmitted a single classified document or piece of information."

In its report accompanying the appeal, Amnesty International cited a judgment in 2005 of the United Nations Working Group on Arbitrary Detention, particularly its opinion, as quoted by AI, that problems with U.S. prosecution and sentencing "combined together, are of such gravity that they confer the deprivation of liberty of these five persons an arbitrary character"

We, the undersigned, join Amnesty International in calling for "review of the case by the US executive authorities through the clemency process or other appropriate means."

The Honorable Barak Obama, President of the United States of America, The White House, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

In 1998, five Cuban men – Gerardo Hernández, Ramón Labañino, Antonio Guerrero, Fernando González, and René González – were arrested on serious charges while monitoring extremist anti-Cuba groups in southern Florida. Tried in Miami in 2001, they received sentences adding up collectively to four life sentences plus 77 years. Their appeals are nearly exhausted.

Amnesty International recently expressed “serious doubts about the fairness and impartiality of their trial.” In its appeal to U.S. Attorney General Eric Holder, that group stated: “No evidence was presented against them at trial to show that the accused had actually handled or transmitted a single classified document or piece of information.”

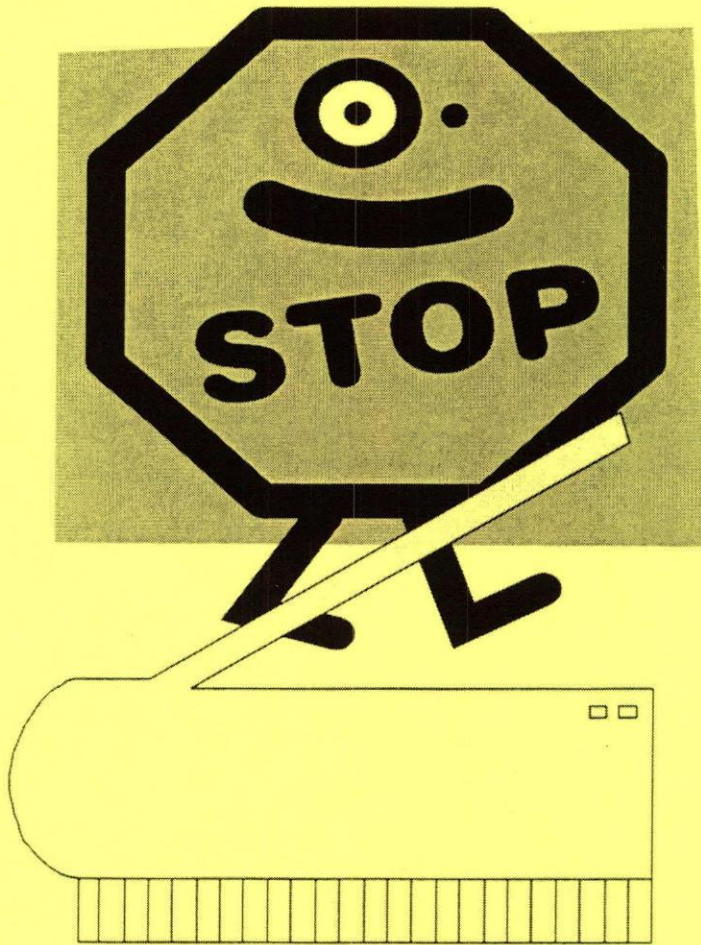

Amnesty International cited the United Nations Working Group on Arbitrary Detention that in 2005 judged U.S. judicial shortcomings to be “of such gravity that they confer the deprivation of liberty of these five persons an arbitrary character.” Amnesty International is now seeking “review of the case by the US executive authorities through the clemency process or other appropriate means.”

We, the undersigned, call upon your administration to free the Five Cuban prisoners thereby allowing for their return to Cuba.
